What are the class dates for each quarter?

Class dates for each quarter are posted on our website at www.cdt-dance.org. Dates will also be listed on class schedules and brochures, which are located in the lobby and waiting areas. Ask at the front desk if we are out of class schedules.

What are the fees for the classes?

Fees may vary per quarter based on the number of weeks. See the website and current brochures for prices. There will be deadlines each quarter for registration and there is limited amount of space in classes. If capacity is reached in a class, names will be placed on a list and a second class may be offered. A class may be cancelled if less than four students are registered by the deadline. Additional fees will be added for a payment made after the deadline; check the brochure and website for details.

There are no drop-in prices. Please do not bring a friend or relative to drop-in and take a class. All students must be registered for a session before arriving at their first class for a quarter. The exception to this are "try-it-out" drop-in classes before a quarter begins: these classes will be posted separately and are on specific dates only.

Please note: During certain quarters if there is space in a class after the first week, new students might be permitted to join, at the discretion of the instructor and CDT. Late fees will apply and prices will not be prorated. Please call CDT, check at the front desk, or email alissa@cdt-dance.org to inquire.

What time will the class meet?

Please check our website or current brochures and class schedules for up-to-date schedules.

Will make-up classes be offered? How will we know if a class is cancelled?

Make-up classes are only offered if the teacher or studio cancels a class (i.e. due to inclement weather, instructor is ill, etc). The instructor and/or CDT will attempt to give you as much notice as possible if a class is cancelled (will call, text and/or email you).

Closures due to the weather will be posted on our Facebook page, usually after noon for weekday classes. "Like" us on Facebook "Contemporary Dance Theater".

What is the Dress Code?

In general, we recommend that your child wear comfortable clothes that are easy to move in. Please do not wear jeans. Socks are generally too slippery, so either bare feet or shoes would be required.

For Shake & Create, Introduction to Ballet & Modern, and Ballet for Kids

Leotards and footless tights are encouraged, but not required. Students should have ballet slippers for Intro to Ballet & Ballet for Kids (Shake & Create students can be in bare feet); socks only are not permitted (too slippery). Hair should be pulled back off the face; long hair should be in a ponytail, braid or bun.

For Tumbling/Acrobatics & Modern for Kids: Students will be in bare feet. Preferred attire is a leotard and bike shorts, or tight exercise/yoga pants. If wearing a t-shirt or tank top, it should be tight or be able to be tucked into the shorts/pants. Hair should be pulled back off the face; long hair should be in a ponytail or braid. We recommend that hair does not have pony beads or other clips/fasteners that would be difficult to roll over.

For Hip Hop: Students will be in athletic shoes, dance sneakers, or jazz shoes. Wear comfortable athletic or dance clothing – no jeans. Hair should be pulled back off the face; long hair should be in a ponytail or braid.

May the parent/guardian leave the building during dance class?

If your child is in Shake & Create, or is 5-7 years old and in any other class in Studio B, a parent/guardian must stay in the waiting area just outside the Studio B classroom in case your child needs to use the restroom downstairs. Your child's safety is our number one priority and we feel that one way we can ensure this is to have parents/guardians easily accessible. It is helpful to have a parent/guardian available should a young child need a hug, a nose wiped, or a bathroom break (downstairs in the Parlor).

For most children ages 7 and older, parents may leave the building if they inform the instructor before class, and are easily contacted by phone if needed. Parents may also wait in the building in the Parlor, front hallway, or in the waiting area outside of Studio B. We suggest that parents of new students should wait in the building for the first class. Parents of students in Tumbling/Acrobatics for Dance may help spot – please do not sit in the classroom, though, if not participating in any way (please wait in the parlor).

Please do not sit in the back of the room unless the instructor requests it, as it is often distracting to the students and instructor. At the end of each quarter, there will be an opportunity to watch the class.

Please note that a parent/guardian may be able to take an adult drop-in class during the time of your child's class, depending on his/her age. Please consult with your child's instructor and the front desk.

What should my child bring to dance class?

Your child may bring a water bottle with their name on it and should bring the appropriate footwear for the class. Please do not bring personal items like toys or cell phones. These items are distracting during dance class and the studio is not responsible for lost items. If a student needs to use a phone, they may use the studio phone at the front desk. Do not bring food into the classroom.

May parents/guardians and/or other relatives, siblings or friends watch the class?

We do not usually have people inside the room watching the class, as it is very distracting for the students and instructors to have parents and other people in the room during dance class. However, we offer Family/Friends dance classes in which we invite everyone to observe and/or join in on the dance class. This is the perfect opportunity to see what your child has been learning during dance class. Dates will be posted, and are usually the last day of a quarter.

May I take video or photos during class?

Please do not take video or photos during a class. If you would like to record what your child learned that day, please take a video of your own child only directly after the class ends.

On Family/Friend days, which are usually on the last day of the quarter, photos and video may be taken for a portion or all of the class depending on the instructor; please ask the instructor first, though, as sometimes the instructor does not want his/her classes recorded.

Will there be a dance recital?

There will not be a dance recital. We would have to devote a large portion of class time to learning and rehearsing dances for a recital. We use the time spent in dance class for learning new dance skills and concepts. Instead of a recital we invite you to join us for a Family/Friends dance class, usually the last week of a quarter. This is an opportunity for your child to show you what they have learned in their dance class.

What will my child learn during dance class?

Please see our website (www.cdt-dance.org) or brochures for current class descriptions.
